BUMI ARMADA BHD (Technical Buy)

- ARMADA closed at RM0.315 (+1.6%) and is attempting to turn up from a multi-month downtrend. Price has nudged back above the 5D/13D SMAs and is pressing the descending trendline / prior pivot near RM0.320, while the 50D/100D/200D SMAs (at RM0.325/0.36/0.43) sit overhead as progressively higher caps. Holding recent higher lows above RM0.30 hints at a basing attempt.
- Stochastic is rising toward 60–70 (momentum improving), TDPR is lifting off a depressed zone (seller pressure easing), and RSI has reclaimed the 50-line, suggesting early momentum repair. A sequence of small-bodied candlestick has formed with higher lows near RM0.30–0.31 signals buy-the-dip interest; a firm close above RM0.32 would confirm a minor breakout over the trend-line.
- Immediate resistance sits at RM0.32, then RM0.325 (50D SMA) with stronger hurdle set at RM0.335–RM0.34. Supports are RM0.30, followed by RM0.28; loss of RM0.28 would undercut the basing structure.
- Accumulate on dips within RM0.305–0.31. Set TP1: RM0.325 (50D zone) and TP2: RM0.34. Cut loss below RM0.28. This implies 7%–11% upside against 8% downside. A decisive breakout above RM0.335–0.34 (trend-line) and sustained trade above that band would notably strengthen the bullish setup.
