What are the key risks associated with the Fund?

General risks associated with investing in a unit trust fund

| | |
|---------------------|---|
| Market Risk | Market risk refers to the possibility that an investment will lose value because of a general decline in financial markets, due to economic, political and/or other factors resulting in a decline in a fund's NAV. |
| Inflation Risk | This is the risk that investors' investment in a fund may not grow or generate income at a rate that keeps pace with inflation. |
| Non-Compliance Risk | This is the risk of the manager, the investment manager or the trustee not complying with their respective internal policies, the deed and its supplemental deed, securities law or guidelines issued by the regulators relevant to each party, which may adversely affect the performance of a fund. |
| Loan Financing Risk | This risk occurs when investors take a loan / financing to finance their investment. The inherent risk of investing with borrowed money includes investors being unable to service the loan repayments. |
| Country Risk | Investments of a fund in any countries may be affected by changes in the economic and political climate, restriction on currency repatriation or other developments in the law or regulations of the countries in which a fund invests in. |

Specific risks associated with the Fund

| | |
|---|---|
| Risk of not meeting the Fund's Investment Objective | This is the risk that the Fund may deviate from the intended investment objective. |
| Risk of a Passive Strategy | As the Fund adopts a passive strategy of investing a minimum of 95% of its NAV into the Target Fund at all times, this strategy would result in the Fund being exposed to the risk of its NAV declining when the Target Fund's net asset value declines. |
| Currency Risk | As the investments of the Fund will be denominated in currencies other than the base currency, any fluctuation in the exchange rate between the base currency and the currencies in which the investments are denominated may have an impact on the value of these investments. |
| Income Distribution Risk | The distribution of income is not guaranteed. |
| Counterparty Credit Risk | Counterparty credit risk is the risk arising from the possibility that the counterparty may default or not able to fulfill a trade settlement prior or on the settlement date of the trade. This could adversely affect the value of the Fund. |

Specific risks associated with the Target Fund

|---|--|
| Emerging Markets Risk | Emerging markets are typically those of poorer or less developed countries which exhibit lower levels of economic and/or capital market development, and higher levels of share price and currency volatility, amongst these, those which exhibit the lowest levels of economic and/or capital market development may be referred to as frontier markets, and the below mentioned risks may be amplified for these markets. |
| Equity Risks | The values of equities fluctuate daily and the Target Fund could incur significant losses. The price of equities can be influenced by many factors at the individual company level, as well as by broader economic and political developments, including trends in economic growth, inflation and interest rates, corporate earnings reports, demographic trends and catastrophic events. |
| Restrictions on Foreign Investment Risk | Some countries prohibit or impose substantial restrictions on investments by foreign entities such as the Target Fund. The manner in which foreign investors may invest in companies in certain countries, as well as limitations on such investments, may have an adverse impact on the operations of the Target Fund. The Target Fund could be adversely affected by delays in, or a refusal to grant any required governmental approval for repatriation of capital, as well as by the application to the Target Fund of any restriction on investments. |
| Risk to Capital Growth | The Target Fund may make distributions from capital as well as from income and net realised and net unrealised capital gains. In addition, the Target Fund may pursue investment strategies in order to generate income. Whilst this might allow more income to be distributed, it may also have the effect of reducing capital and the potential for long-term capital growth as well as increasing any capital losses. |
| Smaller Capitalisation Companies Risk | The securities of smaller companies may be subject to more abrupt or erratic market movements than larger, more established companies or the market average in general. In addition, many small company stocks trade less frequently and in smaller volume, and may be subject to more abrupt or erratic price movements than stocks of large companies. The securities of small companies may also be more sensitive to market changes than the securities of large companies. These factors may result in above-average fluctuations in the net asset value of the Target Fund's shares. |

Note: The abovementioned risks which investors should consider before investing into the Fund should not be considered to be an exhaustive list. Investors should be aware that investments in the Fund may be exposed to other unforeseeable risks from time to time. Investors are advised to consult their professional adviser. Please refer to the Prospectus under "Risk Factors" and "The Information on the Target Fund" for further details on risks.

Please note that if you invest in units through a distributor via a nominee system of ownership, you will not be deemed a unit holder under the deed of the Fund.
