What are the key risks associated with the Fund?

General risks associated with investing in a Unit Trust Fund

Market Risk	Market risk refers to the possibility that an investment will lose value because of a general decline in financial markets, due to economic, political and/or other factors resulting in a decline in a fund's net asset value.
Inflation Risk	This is the risk that investors' investment in a fund may not grow or generate income at a rate that keeps pace with inflation.
Non-Compliance Risk	This is the risk of the manager, the investment manager or the trustee not complying with their respective internal policies, the deed and its supplemental deeds, securities law or guidelines issued by the regulators relevant to each party, which may adversely affect the performance of a fund.
Loan Financing Risk	This risk occurs when investors take a loan/financing to finance their investment. The inherent risk of investing with borrowed money includes investors being unable to service the loan repayments.
Country Risk	Investments of a fund in any countries may be affected by changes in the economic and political climate, restriction on currency repatriation or other developments in the law or regulations of the countries in which the fund invests in.

Specific risks associated with the Fund

Currency Risk	As the investments of the Fund will be denominated in currencies other than the base currency, any fluctuation in the exchange rate between the base currency and the currencies in which the investments are denominated may have an impact on the value of these investments.
Risk of a Passive Strategy	As the Fund adopts a passive strategy of investing a minimum of 95% of its NAV into the Target Fund at all times, this strategy would result in the Fund being exposed to the risk of its NAV declining when the Target Fund's net asset value declines.
Risk of not Meeting the Fund's Investment Objective	This is the risk that the Fund may deviate from the intended investment objective.
Counterparty Credit Risk	Counterparty credit risk is the risk arising from the possibility that the counterparty may default or not able to fulfill a trade settlement prior or on the settlement date of the trade. This could adversely affect the value of the Fund.

Specific risks associated with the Target Fund

Market Risk	The value of investments by the Target Fund may go up or down due to changing economic, political or market conditions, or due to an issuer's individual situation.
Liquidity Risk	There is no secondary market for the Target Fund. All redemption requests should be made to the distributor of the Target Fund through whom you originally purchased the shares. The liquidity of the Target Fund may be limited if a significant portion of the assets of the Target Fund is to be sold to meet redemption requests on a short time frame. During this period, the portfolio allocation may be modified to prioritise liquidity.
Small Cap Liquidity Risk	Investments in small companies can be difficult to sell quickly which may affect the value of the Target Fund and, in extreme market conditions, its ability to meet redemption requests upon demand.
Derivatives Risk	The fund may use financial derivative instruments as part of the investment process. The use of futures, options, warrants, forwards, swaps or swap options involves increased risk. The fund's ability to use such instruments successfully depends on the ability of the Investment Manager of the Target Fund to accurately predict movements in stock prices, interest rates, currency exchange rates or other economic factors and the availability of liquid markets. If the predictions of the Investment Manager of the Target Fund are wrong, or if the financial derivative instruments do not work as anticipated, the fund could suffer greater losses than if the fund had not used such instruments.
Operational Risk	The Investment Manager of the Target Fund's operations depends on third parties and it may suffer disruption or loss in the event of their failure.
Currency Risk	The base currency of the Target Fund is EUR. As the investments of the Target Fund may be quoted and/or priced in currencies other than EUR, any unfavorable fluctuation in the exchange rate between the EUR and the currencies in which the investments is quoted and/or priced may have an adverse effect on the value of these investments when expressed in EUR. Any gains or losses arising from the movement of the foreign currencies against EUR may therefore increase or decrease the capital gains or capital loss of the investment.

Note: The abovementioned risks which investors should consider before investing in the Fund should not be considered to be an exhaustive list. Investors should be aware that investments in the Fund may be exposed to other unforeseeable risks from time to time. Investors are advised to consult their professional adviser. Please refer to the Prospectus under "Risk Factors" and "The Information on the Target Fund" for further details on risks.

Please note that if you invest in units through a distributor via a nominee system of ownership, you will not be deemed a unit holder under the deed of the Fund.
