

Money Market Review

As widely expected, Bank Negara Malaysia (BNM) kept the Overnight Policy Rate (OPR) unchanged at 2.75% on 9 July. While acknowledging the continued threat to growth posed by the Middle East conflict, the central bank remains confident that Malaysia will achieve its 2026 growth target of 4%-5%, with inflation expected to stay contained. Domestic growth continues to be underpinned by strong fundamentals, robust domestic demand, and solid export growth. On inflation front, both headline and core Consumer Price Index (CPI) eased slightly to 1.9% YoY in June (May: 2.0%).

The international reserves of BNM stood at USD131.8 billion as of 15 July 2026, sufficient to finance 4.7 months of imports of goods and services and is 0.9 times of total short-term external debt.

Money Market Outlook

Malaysia's macroeconomic outlook remains supported by steady domestic demand, healthy labour market conditions and contained inflation, albeit with downside risks from global trade uncertainties and external market volatility. Cost pressures are expected to rise but remain manageable, mitigated by domestic policy measures. BNM is expected to maintain the OPR at 2.75% for the rest of the year, given the manageable inflation outlook and resilient growth trajectory.
