KEY RISKS

GENERAL INVESTMENT RISKS

- INFLATION RISK - Inflation risk is the risk of loss in the purchasing power (i.e. the ability to buy goods and services) due to the general increase of consumer prices. As such, due to inflation, the real rate of returns from the Fund will be lower than the nominal rate of returns.
- NON-COMPLIANCE RISK - This is the risk of RHBAM, not complying with the internal policies, the deed of the Scheme, all applicable laws or guidelines issued by the regulators. For example, the possibility of a breakdown in RHBAM's prescribed practises and internal policies and procedures are factors that may lead to non-compliance. The breakdown may be the outcome of human error (for instance the oversight of RHBAM) or system failure. The magnitude of such risk and its impact on the Funds and/or members are dependent on the nature and severity of the non-compliance.
- CAPITAL AND RETURNS ARE NOT GUARANTEED - Unlike fixed deposits, which generally provide a guarantee on capital invested and carry a specific rate of return, members should be aware that the capital contributed and the returns of the Funds are not guaranteed.
- FUND MANAGER RISK - The experience and expertise of the fund manager who is managing the Fund play an important role in the success of the Fund. The lack of experience and expertise of the fund manager will result in a poor performance of the Fund.
- RISKS ASSOCIATED WITH DEFAULT OPTION - Under the default option, RHBAM will allocate contribution to the Funds that corresponds to the age of the members. As the age of the members progresses, their investments into the respective Fund will also be switched automatically to the respective Fund that corresponds to their age. At the point of switching, the unit price may be lower than the unit price that the members paid when they first contributed to the Fund, and as such members may be subject to losses relating to their investment. However, members should note that RHBAM will notify them in writing one (1) month before they reach the maximum age of a particular age group. As such, members can still have the option to stay on with the particular Fund before their contributions are switched.

- LEGAL AND REGULATORY RISK - The private retirement scheme is subject to the current laws and guidelines which may change over time. As such, the changes in the laws and guidelines may affect a member's ability to access his/her balance in the account. Furthermore, changes in the guidelines may also have an impact on the Funds. For example, if there are changes to the asset allocation of the Funds, the fund manager will need to change the asset allocation of the Funds to comply with the new guidelines.
- MARKET RISK - Market risk arises because of factors that affect the entire marketplace and cannot be mitigated. Factors such as economic growth, political change and social environment are some examples of conditions that can have an impact on businesses of the companies, whether positive or negative. The performance of equities and fixed income instruments are also affected as they are issued by companies. As such, Funds that are investing into equities and fixed income instruments will also be affected.

RISKS SPECIFIC TO EACH FUND

	RHB Retirement Series – Growth Fund	RHB Retirement Series – Moderate Fund	RHB Retirement Series – Conservative Fund
EQUITY RISK - The performance of the equities held by the Funds is dependent on the company's business situation and the management of the company. External factors like the competitive operating environments and changing industry conditions will also affect the performance of the equity. If these factors deteriorate, the price of the specific equity may drop significantly and permanently, possibly even regardless of an otherwise generally positive stock market trend. This risk will be managed via portfolio diversification whereby the particular equity exposure will be reduced in the event of an anticipated weakness in the equity.	√	√	√
CREDIT RISK - This refers to the likelihood that the issuer of the fixed income instruments (including money market instruments) may default. This risk arises when the issuers of such instruments are unable to make timely payment of interest and principal upon maturity. Should this happen, the Fund will record significant losses with respect to the NAV of the Fund. Credit risk can be managed by performing continuous fundamental credit research and analysis to ascertain the creditworthiness of the issuer of the fixed income instruments.	√	√	√
INTEREST RATE RISK - Fixed income instruments are subject to interest rate risk. The price of the fixed income instrument will change due to the changes in interest rate. As interest rates rises, the price of a fixed income instrument will typically fall. As such, the value of the Fund's NAV will decrease due to the Fund's investment in fixed income instruments. Interest rate risk is higher for fixed income instruments with longer tenures. RHBAM will manage this risk by holding a portfolio of different duration based on interest rate expectation and outlook of the market.	√	√	√
LIQUIDITY RISK - Liquidity risk exists when an investment cannot be sold due to unavailability of a buyer for that investment. This risk could also arise when the investment is thinly traded. Liquidity risk may cause the investment of the Fund to be sold below its fair value. Thus, the value of the Fund's investment would fall and subsequently the value of a Member's investments would be reduced. As part of its risk management, RHBAM will attempt to manage the liquidity of the Fund through asset allocation and diversification strategies within the portfolio.	√	√	√
INCOME DISTRIBUTION RISK - Income distribution from the Funds is not guaranteed. As per the Guidelines on Private Retirement Schemes, distribution of income of the Funds should only be made from realised gains or realised income. Under the circumstances where there are no realised gains or realised income, the Funds may not be able to distribute income. Please note that the income distribution of the Funds will be automatically reinvested into the respective Funds.	√	√	√
DERIVATIVES RISK - The investment in warrants, which is a type of derivative instrument is subject to market risk and liquidity risk. Moreover, these financial instruments allow the use of leverage/gearing which may cause the price movements to be much more volatile as compared to price movements of its underlying assets. As such, investing into derivatives like warrants may result in higher volatility of the Fund's NAV.	√	√	-
COLLECTIVE INVESTMENT SCHEME RISK - The Funds are subject to the investment risks faced by the respective collective investment schemes managed by RHBAM. For example, the risk that the fund manager of the respective collective investment schemes may underperform their benchmarks due to the fund manager making poor forecasts of the performances of the securities or asset classes. Furthermore, the Fund may also be exposed to liquidity risk which may arise from the inability of the respective collective investment schemes to meet redemption request(s).	√	√	√

	RHB Retirement Series – Growth Fund	RHB Retirement Series – Moderate Fund	RHB Retirement Series – Conservative Fund
CURRENCY RISK - The impact of the exchange rate movement between the base currency of the Funds (i.e. RM) and the differing currency in the investment denominated in non-RM currencies may result in depreciation of the member's holdings as expressed in the base currency of the Funds.	√	√	√
COUNTRY RISK - The Funds' investments may be adversely affected by political instability as well as exchange controls, changes in taxation, foreign investment policies, restrictions on repatriation of investments and other restrictions and controls which may be imposed by the relevant authorities of the countries in which the Fund may invest in. This in turn may cause the NAV of the Fund to fall. To mitigate this risk, RHBAM will monitor closely the adherence of investment regulatory requirements in such countries.	√	√	√

YOU SHOULD REFER TO THE SCHEME'S DISCLOSURE DOCUMENT OR CONSULT A PROFESSIONAL ADVISER, IF YOU DO NOT UNDERSTAND THE ABOVE RISKS.
